

The customer

About you...

As a one-stop plastic manufacturer, you are capable of producing a wide array of plastic products, including custom plastic enclosures for consumer electronics, plastic components for the automotive industry, plastic containers for food and non-food products, etc.

The situation...

You have recently won a contract to produce the casings for electronic components of a new line of cars. It is the biggest contract in your company's history but you are afraid that both the budget and the lead-time leave little room for error.

As well, will need to update your factory with eight new injection-molding machines.

Try to negotiate...

- The lowest possible price
- free installation of the machines in your factory
- longer guarantee period
- free maintenance of the machines for as long as possible
- free training for your personnel

9 machines for +10 % price, 1,5 years guarantee, annual training free, maintenance free for guarantee period, installation not free (50% of machine price for all machines together)
